Jacquie Pask and Kerryn - Moss Melbourne (Victoria)

Always on trend, Moss has enjoyed the revival in the use of curtaining to give a space softness and warmth. "Moss presents a complete image - customers can walk in and be inspired to recreate something similar in their own home. The look is a contemporary, with a focus on comfort and livability," says Jacquie, whose experience in high-end hotel fit-outs ensures that Moss interiors are practical with a fine attention to detail. "People walk into the store and they like what they see. We can help advise them on how to implement the look into their own homes. If you like our style, we can give your home the same look and feel," says Kerryn who has been part of the Moss team for over six years. The philosophy at Moss is to work to a masterplan, to buy what you love and to work with the pieces that you already adore to create a space which is all about you. Decoartors' tip: Buy large investment pieces as you would a suit - classic and timeless, then have fun with the accessories like the cushions in the same way that you would a tie.

Irene Lewis - Watson Blinds & Awnings (ACT)

Irene Lewis Interior Design, Canberra, provides a friendly and professional service specialising in commercial, residential and school interior design. She has an emphasis on client liaison and communication that leads to ongoing partnerships with clients. Irene has a strong capacity to listen to client's needs, comprehend their goals and synthesise this information into innovative, sustainable well designed places to live and work.
